DOWN THE HATCH

with Peter Arnold

It's Easter again, and off we go on another Stock Car Racing season — the 14th in this country — and our second here at Brands Hatch. During the winter months Promoters and Drivers have been holding their usual discussion meetings, negotiating and planning for this season. In the main things remain much as they were last year.

Judging from the list of drivers it would seem that interest to become a competitor is still very high, and many newcomers will doubtless be seen on our circuit here before the season is very old. But, as is to be expected, there will also be many of your old favourites.

We plan to again introduce a variety of programme formulae, and to retain our pre-meeting Match Race Championship. The holder, at the end of the 1966 season, was the South African Piet de Klerk. As he is not here to defend his title, we are putting together two men who between them had most consistent success here last year, Allen Briggs, winner of two finals, and American Ted Janes, who won more races than any other driver, and who was just about the most popular competitor we had. Their duel should be quite interesting for it will really be a 'top-dog' battle.

For the rest of the programme this time we have kept to the 'traditional'. This will help officials and drivers alike to get into the swing of the new season, before we start to get more 'involved' and complicated.

The advent of Stock Car Racing at this 'pukka' race circuit caused many eyebrows to be raised last year. Many who came to scoff a year ago, stayed to cheer and became regular fans. The thrill of the sport captured their imagination and the colourful cars provided their own particular following. In this sport, unlike any other form of motor sport, a driver retains his racing number for the whole season at every meeting, and this makes it all so much easier for you, the supporters. Many drivers have their own Fan Club group of supporters, whose banners can almost always be seen draped over the grandstand balcony, or over the public barriers behind the safety fences. There is no more ardent group of fans than those who follow Stock Car Racing.

Of course our Brands Hatch Circuit is different from most in that it is on an 'open track' as opposed to the more formal enclosed quarter mile circuits of the speedway stadiums. Being tarmac and undulating, the racing is nevertheless fast — the fastest Stock Car circuit in the country — and incidents abound, usually because of the excess of speed.

To newcomers may I suggest that you do not watch from any one position for the whole meeting, but wander around. The different vantage points offer different views, different aspects of this wheel-to-wheel sport that is far more skilful than many give it credit for. The cars get better every year. The engines now used by the top men have the latest, powerful American ohv V8 units, or super-tuned British made Jaguars. The cars are almost all, without exception, home-built by their driver-owners, who spend many loving hours on them during the winter months.

This afternoon we shall see the fruits of their endeavours. Let us hope, also, that the weather man is as kind to us today as he was for our opening meeting just a year ago. And if the racing is as exciting too, then we are all in for another crackerjack session.

Incidentally, don't forget your Brands Hatch Stock Car Racing transfer on sale at the mobile gift shop, and the lapel badges too. They are an ideal way of showing your interest to strangers — who then become friends, sharing your enjoyment.

So as the zero hour approaches, let's wish all competitors good luck for today — and the rest of the season. Good racing — and may the better man win.
