THE ORDER OF ST. JOHN

Dating back to the Knights of Malta and conscious of the obligations which tradition through the ages has placed upon it, the Venerable Order of St. John of Jerusalem still carries on its work, attuned to modern circumstances.

It is a movement which seeks to instruct the maximum number of people in First Aid, upon a purely voluntary basis, and therefore attracts men and women of goodwill who desire to exercise their knowledge to the advantage of the community.

In these mechanized days, producing ever-increasing risk of injury to those in the field or in the factory, travelling by road or by rail, accidents are taking their terrible toll.

In Norfolk the uniformed branch of the Order, namely the Brigade, is making great strides, but financial support from a wider sphere is sought.

The rendering of First Aid is the responsibility of St. John at these Races to-day, and being a voluntary movement our attendance is without charge to those competing in the Races and the public who are interested in the sport.

Donations in acknowledgment, large or small, will be welcome.

THOMAS COOK,
County Commissioner.
